

often conducted without anaesthetic and in medically unsafe conditions. The Committee AGREED that even in situations where circumcisions were done for religious and traditional reasons, it should be done in medically safe conditions and in a humane manner."

After lengthy DISCUSSION on the matter, the Committee RESOLVED that it be conveyed to NOCIRC-SA that, from a medical point of view, there was no medical justification for routine circumcision in neonates and children."

We trust the above will be of assistance to your organisation.
